

The Dualers are a 9-piece Jamaican Rhythm & Blues band from South-East London. They first hit the headlines when the single 'Kiss on the Lips' stormed in to the UK top 30 despite no industry or professional backing, they progressed to playing alongside some of the finest names in Ska and Reggae including The Skatalites, Toots and The Maytals, Ziggy Marley, Jimmy Cliff, UB40 and Madness. With a number of album releases, several top 40 chart singles and an ever increasing large worldwide fan base behind them their success has continued. Now heralded as Britain's finest Ska & Reggae band The Dualers continue to play to sell-out crowds all over the UK & Asia.

Having sold out the prestigious Indigo at the 02 music venue in Greenwich, London a massive 6 times, The Dualers recently used their 7th visit as the launch pad for their latest album 'Back to Paradise'. The new 15 track self-penned album has received rave reviews from critics, artists & fans alike.

The Sun – "Once you start dancing to The Dualers it's impossible to stop"

Q Magazine – "The Dualers soulful harmonising has admirable echoes of Bob Marley & Sam Cooke"

The Independent – "These local superstars are inching towards fame"

Ranking Roger (The Beat) – "This band is heading for the top"

Toots Hibbert (Toots & the Maytals) – "Great band"

Mark Lamarr – "If only all bands were like The Dualers the world would be a better place"
